College of International Studies (English-Taught Program)

Regulations Governing Masters Students and Qualified Undergraduates Receiving Graduate Credits under a Pre-admissions Program

Drafted and Passed during the Second Institute's General Administration Meeting
Institute of the Americas
2nd semester, 102 Academic Year
June 11, 2014

Article I: The rules are drawn up in order to (i) help retain outstanding students for the master's programs at Tamkang University, (ii) help students who eventually seek a higher degree to reduce the amount of time spent in graduate school, (3) help students to more expeditiously reach their educational and professional aspirations.

Article II: Students who have fully completed their fifth undergraduate semester at Tamkang University, and who, having an outstanding record of academic achievement during that five semester period, decide at the start of the sixth semester that they wish to participate in graduate classes for credit, must apply to the Institute no later than one month after the start of classes in the sixth semester. Such an application will be considered for approval by a committee in the Institute.

Article III. To be admitted a student must have the qualifications of being both a candidate for an undergraduate degree and be qualified academically and motivationally for graduate study (such students will hereafter be referred to as pre-study students).

Article IV. Pre-study students must obtain their undergraduate degree no later than the year after they begin their pre-study classes with the Institute. In addition, pre-study students must then formally apply for admission to the Institute's graduate program during their last year of undergraduate study. Students who qualify upon admission and are admitted will be then be classified as legitimate master's students for purposes of the degree.

Article V. Upon finishing their undergraduate program, pre-study students who are subsequently admitted to the Institute's graduate program must submit a formal application to gain credit for any graduate courses that they took during their undergraduate years. This application for graduate credits must follow Tamkang University's "Regulations Governing the Transfer of Credits", and maximum deductible credits cannot exceed 20 credits. However, any credits used to satisfy requirements for the undergraduate degree cannot be transferred to satisfy requirements for the graduate degree.

Article VI: All students must meet the requirements of the master's degree to have the degree conferred.

Article VII: These regulations must pass the Institute's General Administrative Meeting, the Administrative Meeting of the College of International Studies, the School's General Academic Meeting, and then must be submitted to the president for approval, whereupon they will be implemented upon publication, with any subsequent amendments having being made.

Note: For purposes of legal commitment, the Chinese text will govern.
